PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE DISTRIBUTION*STAGE 6 – ALPINE, WYOMING – FEBRUARY 4, 2022.*MALO RECAPTURES YELLOW BIB.

Anny Malo recaptures the coveted Yellow Bib at Stage 6 of the Pedigree Stage Stop Race in Alpine, Wyoming. Her win today added to her already commanding lead of 20 minutes. The rest of the field jockeyed for positions: Dave Torgerson running the Streeper B team placed second for the day and is holding a nice lead in 4th position overall. Lina Steeper placed third for the day and is an unquestionable second place overall. Diane Marquis jumped to 4th for the day remaining in 14th overall.

Austin Forney had a stellar run finishing in 5th today and holds onto the 8th position overall. Alix Crittenden placed 6th and jumps one spot in the overall to 6th place. JR Anderson taking 8th for the day holds onto 5th overall but only by a few seconds. Overall places 1-5 remain fairly consistent with 6th -11th places seeing the greatest changes.

The final race is tomorrow in Driggs, Idaho so hold onto your hats and root for your favorites! This is shaping up to be a very dramatic finish to a history making year of dog sled racing.
